Monthly List of Russian Accessions

1. In the past, copies of the Russian Accessions List published by the Library of Congress have been routed to each branch. This procedure has been generally unsatisfactory as a result of the excessive time required to route this material through the division. There has been considerable duplication of effort in some instances, while in other cases there has not been adequate exploitation of this material.

2. As of this date copies of the Russian Accessions List will be retained in the Staff office, room 1111 Q. As new editions are received each branch will be notified. The Accessions List will be available for the use of all analysts. However, it is requested that each branch send at least one designated representative each month to scan the list for published material pertinent to the branch's interest.

3. The September issue is currently available.
